

April 5, 2006

I feel threatened that Walmart would not be subject to the same strict regulations as other banks that are regulated by the Federal Reserve. Walmart has already squeezed out local grocery stores, drug stores and small hometown hardware stores. What would be next? I think they need to be halted, enough is enough. This sounds like a Monopoly happening here.

This is a dangerous concentration of power! They are the largest corporation in the world!

I think Walmart's reputation has been sneaky in the past, and all they ever cared about is their bottom line!

Walmart Bank is a bad idea.
thank you,

Bonnie Jackson